If She Slaps Kansas Bonds, Her Insurance Companies Must Leave

TOPEKA, April 12 .- (Special.) Governor Stanley to-day received the following tele-gram from Spitzer & Co., bond buyers of Toletio, O .:

"Bill before the Connecticut legislature prohibiting savings banks from investing in bonds in your state. You should take immediate action to prevent its passage and protect the credit of the state of Kansas." Governor Stanley replied: "Kansas will resent unfriendly legislation by another state."

"Kansas will resent unfriendly legislation by another state."

This declaration of Governor Stanley is construed by his friends to mean that, if Connecticut sees fit to pass such a law as is now before the legislature, the Kansas officials will proceed to oust every Connecticut insurance company doing business in this state.

There are ten big Connecticut companies doing business in Kansas. They are carrying $23,000,000 in insurance, and it is estimated that they take out $300,000 cash in premiums annually. If Connecticut banks are prevented from handling Kansas securities through an act of the legislature of the Nutmeg state, then Connecticut banks will be deprived of handling Kansas money sent to Connecticut for insurance premiums.

The state administration is not concerned over the actual damage such a law as is proposed in Connecticut will do, because just now Kansas is not trying to get loans in the East; the state has a vast sum of money to loan Eastern states. It is the principle of the thing that grinds. Kansas doesn't want to be discriminated against, and Governor Stanley will be quick to resent any more in that direction. In this case, he holds the whip hand, for Connecticut wants the insurance business of Kansas worse than Kansas wants money from Connecticut.

The Present Rates on Export Grain to Atlantic Scaboard Must Be Rendiusted.

WASHINGTON, April 12.-The interstat commerce commission to-day in an opinion y Commissioner Calhoun annour decision in the matter of export rates from points east and west of the Mississippl The rates involved are those or corn from points in Illinois, as compared with those from places west of the river particularly in Iowa. The board of trade with those from places west of the river, particularly in Iowa. The board of trade of Chicago and Peoria, Ill., were compisinants in the proceedings. During 1898 the traffic rates on export corn to New York were 17½ cents per 100 from Chicago, and 19 cents from Peoria, and the Chicago rate of 17½ cents was fixed as a proportional rate from the Mississippi rven on corn coming from west of the riyer and carried through for export. In January and February of this year the carriers reduced this proportional rate from the Mississippi river 4 cents, namely, to 13½ cents, and only reduced the Chicago and Peoria rates 1½ cents, namely, to 16 cents from Chicago and 17½ cents from Peoria. The lower rate from all points west of the river to New York 4 cents per 100 pounds, and it further resulted that numerous rates on export corn from points in Iowa to Atlantic seaports were made lower than the rates from many points in Illinois to the seaboard. It also appeared that under the present rates no Illinois corn moved for export through the Atlantic ports and that large quantities of most of the river corn had been shipped for export and carried for that purpose across Illinois farms and through Illinois markets on the way to the seaboard and the foreign destination. The commission finds that these rates subject Illinois corn to wrongful prejudice and disadvantage.

It was claimed that while Illinois corn

It was claimed that while Illinois corr It was claimed that while Illinois corn is excluded from the export market it still has control of the domestic market. The commission says that it is neither sound in principle nor equitable in practice for railway lines to create artificial differences in market conditions by an arbitrary differential in rates whereby the product of one section of the country is assigned to one market and the product of another section to another market.

section of the country is assigned to one market and the product of another section to another market.

The commission does not find the evidence sufficient to enable it to determine whether the old relation of rates should be restored or what changes should be made in rates from Illinois to make them relatively just as compared with all the various total rates from Iowa and other trans-Mississippi points. The commission does hold and decide that through or total combination rates on export corn from any points in Illinois which are higher than the through or combination rates on corn from any point in lowa are unlawful under section 5 of the act to regulate commerce and direct that order be sent accordingly. The boards of trade are granted leave to apply for further hearing in regard to the effect of the change made in the general rate readjustment. The commission says the principle of the decision applies to all grain.

KANSAS CITY SUCCUMBS TO A GENU-INE SLUGGING MATCH.

Blues Were Sore and Played Weak-Good Hitters on the Team-New

Chicago won the third game by a score of 17 to 13. It was a slugging match, the Orphans piling up a total of thirteen singles, five doubles, two triples and a home run. Merideth pitched the first four innings, and was touched up for nine hits, and Friend, who pitched out the game, was slugged for twelve. The fourth and sixth innings were the features of the slugging, the Chi-cagos being able to bunch their hits, while the Blues' hits were scattered all through it would be hardly fair to the team to judge its merit by yesterday's game, as many of the boys were sore from the two games played with the Chicago club early in the week, but there was enough to show that the Blues have some crackajack hitters in the bunch, and as soon as they get that the Blues have some crackajack hitters in the bunch, and as soon as they get in shape the other clubs will have to look out for a slugging game.

It was demonstrated yesterday that the new rule governing pitchers is a run getter, as the players on both teams stole bases with immonity, and when the season has fairly begun and the players are in good shape the record of stolen bases will doubtless be very large.

The feature of the game was the slugging of Ryan and Lange, the former having four singles and a double to his credit and the latter a single, two doubles and a triple.

There will be no more assets.

W. H. TAYLOR PROMOTED.

Will Succeed R. D. Yoakum as Gen
the latter a single, two doubles and a triple.

There will be no more games until Sunday, when the Blues will give the Schmelzers a chance to chase the ball over the lot. The score:
